Roeding's Quality

EASY TO GROW

Spring flowering bulbs stand at the top among all garden plants in six essential characteristics:

. . certainty of success.
. . quickness of results.
. . great beauty of the flowers.
. . length of blooming season.
. . economy of cost and effort.
. . spectacular color possibilities.

They delight in either sun or shade, asking for very little attention. This booklet contains all the information you need for successful results. By all means, enjoy the thrill of growing them next season. We commend every variety listed for they have been selected by us with experienced care, and after rigid tests.

Double THE RETURN, FINER BLOOMS

How to Analyze Your Daffodil Investment

Here are two steps that will insure the greatest returns per dollar invested:

First: Buy Roeding's Quality double-nose bulbs, because they yield twice the bloom . . .

Second: Invest in new varieties and collect garden dividends. As the two sketches at the right show, Roeding's Quality double-nose daffodil bulbs produce two or more flower stalks, as contrasted with the ordinary round bulb which produces only one. Inspect them. Feel their weight and extra-large size. This year provide for extra garden enjoyment in years to come by planting a few new varieties. Those described in these pages received enthusiastic comment at our Eleventh Annual Bulb Show at Niles last spring. See how a bulb investment grows: Three years ago one of our customers bought one-half dozen double-nose bulbs of a new variety for $5.50. The first spring she had 12 gorgeous flowers, the second spring 24 blooms, and last spring 48. This is because the bulbs multiply. Her daffodils have been dug for replanting this fall and she reports having more than two dozen bulbs. The value of an equal number of these bulbs at present prices is $18.00. It pays to get the right start with Roeding's Quality bulbs, to invest in good new varieties, and to care for them properly.

BUY TOP-SIZE BULBS AND Save Money

Don't be confused by offers of "blooming size" bulbs at "bargain prices." It takes two dozen small bulbs planted six inches apart to approach the effect of only a dozen top-size bulbs planted one foot apart. Large bulbs cannot be crowded. They grow naturally into large bushy plants with more and larger flowers. Twelve years' experience planting bulbs in our Bulb Gardens at Niles have shown that we save money by planting the best.

Success with
Anemones and Ranunculus

Rainy winters impress the necessity for good drainage in beds planted to anemones and ranunculus. They will not grow in soil saturated from heavy rainfall, but will reward us with countless flowers if we are careful in planting. Raise the soil level in beds devoted to these flowers so that when planted the bulbs will be above the surface level of surrounding terrain.

How to Grow BULBS

GENERAL: Dig deeply, adding peat or compost. Manure, if used should be thoroughly rotted and placed well below bulbs or added as mulch after planting. Do not cut foliage until bulbs are completely ripened.

DAFFODILS AND NARCISSI: Plant late September to December. Water thoroughly after planting. Water for a month after blooming, then allow to dry. Remove dry foliage, cultivate top soil. Mulch with peat or rotted manure if bulbs are in full sun. Bulbs may be left in ground until crowded.

DUTCH IRIS: Plant October-December. Leave 5 or 6 blades of foliage when cutting blooms. Bulbs may be divided each year or left in soil.

RANUNCULUS AND ANEMONES: Soak bulbs for 1 hour before planting. Plant from October to December in well-drained soil. Keep moderately moist while new growth starting. Plant with sharp prongs down; concave surface is the top.

FREESIAS, IXIAS, TRITONIAS, BABIANAS, SPARAXIS, STREPTANTHERA, MORAEAS, AND BABY GLADIOLUS: Plant as early as bulbs can be obtained, in light, well-drained soil in full sun. Keep soil moderately moist. Bulbs may be left in soil or dug each year after foliage ripens.

Our Daffodil Garden helped us win the Gold Medal Award at the 1942 California Spring Garden Show, Oakland.

MUSCARI: Plant in full sun or light shade, October-November. Divide every three years for best results.

LILIES: Plant in sun or part shade in well-drained soil. Tilt bulbs slightly when planting so that water does not drain into scales
